My wife and I are thinking about flying to the Rocky Mountain area this summer for a week to 10 days. Her brother lives in Cody, WY and we visited him a couple summers ago along with Jackson, Bozeman, Red Lodge and the Park. On the way out we stopped for a couple days in San Antonio and spent an overnight in Phoenix to visit family. It was a great trip.

This year we are considering an August trip to Taos, NM and, possibly Moab, UT, but we understand it could be quite hot in Moab in August. Colorado Springs is also a possibility.

I welcome any thoughts or suggestions regarding those or other destinations.

Thanks.
